BOIL IT DOWN.

Whatever you have to say, my friend,
Whether witty, or grave or gay,
Condense as much as ever you can,
And say in the readiest way;
And whether you write of rural affairs,
Or particular things in town,
Just take a friendly word of advice—
Boil it down.

For if you go spluttering over a page
When a couple of lines would do,
Your butter is spread on so much, you see,
That the bread looks plainly through;
So when you have a story to tell,
And would like a little renown,
To make sure of your wish, my friend,
Boil it down.

When writing an article for the press,
Whether prose or verse, just try
To utter your thoughts in the fewest words,
And let them be crisp and dry,
And when it is finished, and you suppose
It is done exactly brown,
Just look it over again, and then
Boil it down.

For editors do not like to print
An article lazily long;
And the general reader does not care
For a couple of yards of song.
So gather your wits in the smallest space
If you'd win the author's crown,
And every time you write, my friend,
Boil it down.

THE CONVENTION.

The final sitting of the convention has been held, and the greater part of the delegates have left for their homes. They have launched their great work before the world, they have announced to mankind their claims to a higher place in society, and have given to their cause an impulsion which will awaken echoes in every quarter of the globe. The convention was not only a great event in the cause of woman's suffrage, but it is destined to exert a wider influence and will ever be looked upon as a grand event in the history of the world.

In this city a marked and decided change has been wrought in the public mind. In the court rooms, at the Weddell and Kennard Houses, in the first class billiard rooms and wherever young men of education are in the habit of congregating the all absorbing topic of conversation is the late convention. Its discussions and proceedings have been read or heard by every one and acquiesced in by nearly all. "I want to see them vote," says one person. "I too," chimes in a second, as he raises the billiard cue and takes deliberate aim at the ivory ball. "I always was adverse to the doctrine, says an elderly gentleman, "but now if I have anything to say about it my wife shall vote and my daughters too."

The adhesion of some—of a few remarkably learned individuals—is modified by slight objections. A lawyer objects that a woman is and always will be unable "to sever and divide

A hair twixt north and northwest side,"

and that she can never begin to carry in her head all the abstruse an complex doctrines of contingent remainders. And still this learned knight of the green bag, 'full of wise saws and modern instances," would have his forensic lance broken into splinters in the first encounter with Mrs. Mary E. Livermore, who is an attorney and counsellor at law, and was one of the ruling spirits of the late convention.

Another gentleman, a knight of Esculapius, says that he finds something grand in the doctrines of these ladies, but is not completely of their opinion. He has practiced medicine many years, has studied the human frame, held in his hand the heart, explored all the secret recesses of the skull, and that in all his varied experience, combined with his researches in books, he never saw or heard of a lady whose brain weighed so much as that of a great man. Therefore he thought that women should not be placed on an absolute equality with the proprietor of the heavier brain. Nevertheless if this 'learned Theban' were to come in contact with Mrs. H. M. Tracy Cutler, M. D., vice president of the association for Ohio, he would find that her brain weighed enough to demolish every argument he could produce against the claims of the ladies of the convention. The noble, dignified and uncompromising appearance of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the pleasing, practical, logical and earnest language of Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell, the firm candor of Mrs. Livermore, always ready with an a propos for every question, the terse conciseness of Miss Lizzie M. Boynton, whose short sentences were like so many sword thrusts or military orders, the mild, calm, practical spirit of Mrs. Ames, of California, the entire abnegation of self in the remarks of Miss Lily Peckham, of Wisconsin, the charming grace of Miss Celia Burleigh, of Brooklyn, New York, with the eloquent, philosophical and rational address of Mrs. Severance, of Cleveland, the energetic and determined tone of Susan B. Anthony, were enough to silence opposition in whatever form it may appear.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Lucy Stone received the following letter from the disabled volunteer soldiers of the National Military Asylum. The spirit pervading it needs no comment:

NATIONAL MILITARY ASYLUM,
MONTGOMERY Co., O. Nov, 22.

To President of Woman's Rights Convention, Clevelaad.

DEAR ———: In behalf of my comrades I send to you the following sentiment expressive of the inmates of the Central Branch National Military asylum for disabled veteran soldiers, which we request and trust you will read before that body.

L. J. JONES.

The disabled volunteer soldiers to Woman's Rights Convention send greetings. Your cause is ours. To our mothers, wives, sisters and daughters as well as to our fathers, brothers and sons would we equally confide the future destinies of our nation. Ambition and selfishness, our country's greatest danger, exists strongest in man; patriotism and honesty, the nation's safeguard, is most firmly implanted in the heart of woman. Let man plan and execute it he will, but let woman equally guide and control; thus only may our government, by the equal combination of her greatest national virtues with her strongest forces, continue in uninterrupted prosperity, and avoid for all time the fate of a Greece or Rome.

Among the facts of most permanent interest and value connected with the establishment of the American Woman Suffrage Association is the consummation of a plan whereby the Agitator, of Chicago, is to be enlarged and strengthened by the addition of eminent eastern intelligence and capital, and published simultaneously in Boston and Chicago, weekly, after January next, under the name of the 'Woman's Journal.' We learn that Mary A. Livermore, of Chicago, will continue to be its editor, assisted by Julia Ward Howe, Lucy Stone, Colonel T. Higginson, William Lloyd Garrison and other eminent persons.

The basis of the enterprise will be a joint stock company of limited liability, divided into shares of $50 each. A part of this stock is already subscribed, and Mrs. Tracy Cutler, president of the Female Medical college of this city, is authorized to obtain subscriptions to shares in the capital stock, and to take subscribers to the new paper. Every intelligent observer of one of the most important social and political movements ever inaugurated should hasten to subscribe to the Woman's Journal.

The city of Cleveland was nobly represented in the convention in the persons of Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Severance and Mrs. Rickoff. In the positions occupied by these ladies in presiding over and taking part in the debates of the convention, in addressing the audience, and in the delivery of an original poem, each lady filled her respective position with dignity and intelligence —Cleveland Leader, Nov. 21.

SUEZ CANAL—COMMERCIAL REVOLUTION.

The successful completion and opening of the Suez Canal has already produced a decided effect on one of the most important and influential commercial interests in the world—the shipping trade of Great Britain. We learn by cable telegram from London that the operation of the new transit route between Europe and Asia has caused a serious depreciation in freights to and from India and China around the Cape of Good Hope in the British markets. This is the initial of that vast change in the current of commerce which we anticipated would ensue from the Suez Canal enterprise; but we must confess that we did not expect its consequences would be felt so soon at the very heart center of the first established and richest marine monopoly in the universe. If the incipient throb is so powerful, what will be the force of the great pulsation when the reawakened and newly developed interests of Asia commence to pour the flood tide of wealth through the new affluent to San Francisco and New York by steamships and the Pacific railroad, for a first aggregation and subsequent distribution to the other parts of the world, and when we come to report to Queen Victoria almost daily from the Herald building, by deep sea cable telegrams, the doings of her subjects in Hindostan, and to the Earl of Shaftesbury of the progress and prospects of his friends in Africa? Where and how will the revolution end?—N. Y. Herald.

Judge Dowling of New York loves a practical joke. The other day a man was before him charged with whipping his wife.

"How came he to beat you,' asked the Judge.

"Underneath where we live, at 470 Grand street, there is a dance house," explained the wife. 'I was told my husband was there, so I took a woman with me, and we went and looked in."

'Was your husband there?' pursued the Judge.

'Yes, sir.'

'Dancing?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Did you go inside?'

'No, sir; but my husband saw me, and soon came up to our own room, when he beat me and smashed the furniture.'

'It was not a proper place for her to go,' spoke up the husband.

'It was a proper place for you, I suppose.'

'Any place is proper for men.'

'Do you really think so?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Well, then, I'll send you to the penitentiary for three months."

"Measures, not men," is a very good maxim, in politics, but in potatoes both are equally necessary.

TWELVE HANGINGS FOR DECEMBER.—The New York Herald of the 29th ult. enumerates no less than one dozen executions by hanging in a number of states, all of which are to take place the present month. Legally this may all sound well enough, but in the light of morals and our professions of Christianity, how does it look? A person in a rage, a drunken spree, or under a condition of mental aberration may slay a fellow being—that we call murder. Straightway the guilty one is arrested, placed before judges and jurors, confronted by accusers and witnesses, opposed by the chosen prosecutors of the law, and no matter what support or sympathy he may have, the twelve men find him guilty as charged, the judge pronounces the sentence of death, and the sheriff executes the penalty. Thus one murder is followed by another—if the violent taking of human life is murder. The difference between the two cases is this: The first was committed without authority of law,—the second is sustained by the forms of law. The prosecuting attorney puts the responsibility on the jury, the jury refers it to the judge, the judge imposes it upon the sheriff. The responsibility is divided into sections, thus trying to evade the charge of taking human life in the shape of revenge. Is it right to do this? It is nevertheless murder, no matter how committed, or by whom. It is written, Vengeance is mine. Does this vengeance belong to judges, juries, sheriffs, and other officers?

A New-Year's Gift for all.—The publishers of the American Stock Journal wishing to place a copy of that publication in the hands of every farmer, planter, and stock breeder in the country, have put up 100,000 packages containing a specimen copy, large illustrated show bill, a premium list, and one of the following 25 cent books: Horseman's, Hog Breeder's, Sheep Breeder's Dairyman's or Poultryman's Manual. These packages they offer to send postpaid to all who apply for them. The premium list contains many articles, such as blooded cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, potatoes, seeds, agricultural implements, sewing machines, books, watches, etc., that can easily be obtained by a few days' canvassing for this popular journal which is published at the low price of $1 per year. Address N. P. Boyer & Co., Publishers, Parkesburgh, Chester Co., Pa.

The American Agriculturist for December finishes volume 28 of this model agricultural magazine. Its army of patrons have realized ere this that the last number is equal to any thing of the kind extant. Every time the enterprising proprietors, of late, furnish the first page of the cover of their book with new, elegant and appropriate agricultural devices, which itself is an attraction. But the valuable contents is the main thing, and thus the patron gets the worth of his money in agricultural teaching and literary reading of the best character and first-class. Published by Orange Judd & Co. N. Y.

The Schoolmate, by Joseph H. Allen, of Boston, for December, a very nice little monthly for the classes going to school, or who should be there, is received. It is well worthy the support of the friends of education.

Good Health, of Boston, published by A. Moore, continues to give the people sound advice as to the best means of preserving health. The December No. is equal to any of its predecessors.

The Schoolday Visitor, by Daughaday & Becker, Philadelphia, finishes up volume 13 the present month. It is a capital number this time—that's always the case with the Visitor—and deserves, as it will receive, the sustaining hand of a liberal public.

The Independent, Massillon, Ohio, comes out weekly—keeps people posted about local affairs; not too timid to rally some of the biggest sinners in the land, and gives the patron the worth of his money.

The Herald of Health, for December is the completing number of volume 14 of this most excellent preceptor and teacher of the people as to the best means of securing and retaining that blessing of Heaven, envied by all, and not possessed by every one, that is, good health. The thoroughness of its teachings are fully appreciated by the thousands who attentively read its well filled pages, and who therefore, realize its value. Wood & Holbrook publishers, N. Y.

The Western Monthly, by Reed, Brown & Co., Chicago, for December, is filled all the way through with that live sort of reading characteristic of western literature. We expect to make liberal extracts from the present number, as its contents are made up of spirited and lively sketches and essays.

VINELAND.—It is well known that liquor selling is excluded from Vineland. The inhabitants of that place, numbering some 10,000, have paid the last year a total police expense of only $75—so say the papers. Would it not be well elsewhere to try this mode of avoiding heavy taxes?

DROLL SCENE AT A NEGRO CAMP PRAYER-MEETING.

One of the droll scenes of the war, and one on the whole, which was rather jolly in the monotonies of camp-life, was the meetings of the negroes. One of these little gatherings has been deftly sketched by Col. Higginson, down at Beaufort, in December, 1862:

This evening, after working themselves up to the highest pitch, a party suddenly rushed off, got a barrel, and mounted some man upon it, who said, 'Gib anoder song, boys, and I'se gib you a speech!' After some hesitation, and sundry shouts of 'Rise de sing, somebody!' and 'Stan' up for Jesus, brudder!' irrevelently put in by the juveniles, they soon got upon the John Brown song, always a favorite, adding a jubilant verse which I had never before heard: 'We'll beat Beauregard on de clare battle field.' Then came the promised speech; and then seven other speeches, by as many men, on a variety of barrels. The most eloquent, perhaps, was by corporal Lambkin, just arrived from Fernandina, who evidently had a previous reputation among them. His historical references were very interesting. He reminded them that he had predicted this war ever since Fremont's time, to which some of the crowd assented; he then gave a very intelligent account of that presidential campaign; and then described most impressively the secret anxiety of the slaves in Florida to know all about President Lincoln's election, and told how they all refused to work on the 4th of March, expecting their freedom to date from that day. He finally brought out one of the very few really impressive appeals for the American flag that I have ever heard: 'Our mas'rs dey hab lib under de flag, dey got dere wealth under it, and dery ting beautiful for der chil'en. Under it dey hab grind us up, and put us in der pocket for money. But de fus' minute dey tink dat ole flag mean freedom for we colored people dey pull it right down, and run up der rag ob der own.' (Immense applause.) 'But we'll neber desert de ole flag, boys—neber! we hab lib under it eighteen hundred and sixty-two years, and we'll die for it now!' With which overpowering discharge of chronology at long-range this most effective of stump-speeches closed.—Editor's Drawer, in Harper's Magazine for December.

RENOVATING WORN OUT LANDS.

B. Bristol, of Wallingford, Connecticut, writes that his first experiment in using swamp muck settled forever its value in his mind. It was tried he writes, 'on an old worn out sandy field, which according to tradition had been cropped with rye 27 years out of 30. A part of the field, on the brow of the hill, was completely exhausted, and its cultivation abandoned. On this part, in the month of August, I drew and dumped several loads of muck leaving them some distance apart, that I might see the result. The muck was spread in a circular form, and left about four inches deep. The field was then plowed and sowed with rye. In a few weeks these spots could be distinctly seen one hundred rods distant. The next summer the rye on these spots was so heavy that it actually lodged while all around them it was so small that it was not considered worth cutting. The next two or three seasons, (as the field was seeded down,) the change, was, if anything, more marked. The thick rank clover that stood on these spots, surrounded by sand reminded me of the oases in the desert.

The rest of it subsequently received a coating of muck, and was set out with apple trees, which have thus far not disappointed the expectations of the planter.'

In renovating old lands the first thing to do is to put the soil in condition to grow clover; if you have muck use that, if you have manure that is good; if you have neither use guano or super phosphate.

A WOMAN WHO DARED.

Some time ago a young country lass had a lover, as most young girls do, and she made up her mind that she would capture him, if such a thing was possible. On a certain Sunday evening she drew out of him a confession that he liked her, and before he was hardly aware of himself, a promise of marriage. When Henry returned home, he meditated over the matter a little, and wondered how foolish he had been. With his well known opposition to hasty marriages and promises, how could he explain his conduct to his fond parents? It was a dilemma, and one that perplexed him to solve. Some days after the incident above noted, the lady, whom we will call Mary, had a party, and Henry was one of the invited guest. In the evening Mary informed him that there was to be a wedding there, and showed him a license. Imagine his surprise on seeing his name mentioned in the document. 'Now, Henry you are going to fulfill your engagement,' gently striking him under the chin. He tried to excuse himself on the ground of not being ready, and wishing to arrange his worldly affairs; but it was no go. She told him to put on a bold face, and just finish the affair up at once and done with it. At this juncture the Squire made his appearance and the two were joined together in matrimony.

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM

The nervous system is the highest distinction of the animal, and in man it is that part of the organism to whose welfare everything else is subordinate. It is through the medium of the nervous system that the involuntary muscles concerned in digestion, circulation and respiration are stimulated to the performance of their respective functions; it is also through the same means that we feel and think, and set the voluntary muscles in action; and it is the link to all the powers of the mind.

The nervous system consists of the brain, spinal marrow and nerves, and these together form an apparatus to which there is nothing analogous in the plant or in the lowest order of animals. It is divisible into two chief parts, a center and a periphery. The former consists of the brain and spinal marrow, the latter of the nerves in communication with this center; the periphery, however, is also divided into two parts—the centripetal, which terminates in, or receive and conveys impressions to the center; and the centrifugal, which transmit impressions from the center, and stimulate the powers of motion. Besides these two sets of nerves, there is intricately blended with them a third called the sympathetic, whose office it is to combine and harmonize the muscular movement immediately concerned in the maintenance of life, and to bring these movements into relation with the mind—which is the grand purpose of the whole system of nerves.

The brain, which has for its chief function the perception of impressions, is of itself insensible, and can be excited in no other way than by impressions transmitted through the nerves. If it were possible for a human being to come into the world with a brain perfectly adapted to be the instrument of mental operations, but without nerves to transmit mental impressions, there is every reason to believe that the mind would remain dormant, like a seed buried deep in the earth.

The spiral marrow presides over many of the functions essential to life, yet it, like the brain, must be connected with all the organs over which it presides by the nerves, and without this connection of the center with the periphery of the nervous system, the the functions of the body would be alike dormant with the faculties of the mind.

The nerves which constitute the periphery of the system, and supply those parts of the body which by contact with foreign substances, are susceptible to sensations, cannot perceive the impressions which they excite. For perception, the impressions have to be transmitted to the center. Thus it is manifest that the integrity of the whole nervous system is essential to the healthy exercise of the faculties and functions of the organism.—Living Things.

HOW A FISH SWIMS.

So much, then, for the manner and the means of overcoming the attraction of gravitation in the fish. Now, how does it swim? We have found that the successive or simultaneous removal of the dorsal, anal, pectoral, and ventral fins only rendered the fish's position unsteady; but he could swim as well as before. But if the end of the caudal fin be snipped off, its speed is diminished; if the entire fin is removed, it moves still slower, and with evident exertion, but bravely keeps it up until the tail itself has been cut off up to or beyond the anal fin; then at last the poor victim to science succumbs, rolls over and over like a log upon the water, gasps convulsively, makes a few desperate but ineffectual struggles with its abbreviated tail—and dies.

Mr. Bergh would probably object. But the sight appears more cruel than it is, for the successive cuts seem to disturb the fish but little; and as the whole is over much sooner than the dying struggles of a hooked fish, we may claim the right to make the sacrifice for our intellectual dinner—especially as it occurs by no means every Friday.

We have learned that a fish cannot swim without its tail. Let us now inquire how he swims with it. Very much as you scull a boat with an oar; but with the difference that in this case the oar is a part of the boat, and is flexible both in its length and in its height.

Let us suppose our fish floating at rest in the water. Its tail is extended straight behind the body; suddenly it is bent to one side; this of course turns the head toward the same side, and perhaps carries the fish a little backward; but now come a more forcible backward stroke of the tail, which turns the head the other way, and propels the fish forward. Then, having reached the middle line, it is gently bent to the other side, and again forcibly extended. The result of these alternate movements of the tail in opposite directions is, as in the sculling of a boat, to propel the fish forward, not in a straight but a zigzag direction. But the successive movements are so rapid that we notice only the resultant forward motion, which is in some species, as the salmon, at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and so powerful that the sword-fish has been known to thrust his sword through copper sheathing, a layer of felt, four inches of deal, and fourteen inches of oak.

But it may now be asked, 'Why does the backward stroke of the fish carry the fish forward any more than its forward stroke carries it backward? for they must pass through the same space.'

There are four different reasons:—First, The forward stroke is much less forcible and rapid than the backward. Second, The water is already moving; for the previous backward stroke of the tail from the other side to the middle line has forced the water in all directions out of its way, so that the further stroke forward meets comparatively little resistance; but the backward stroke meets all the more, and is therefore the more effective in sending the fish forward. Third, This and the Fourth reason depend upon the form of the tail, or upon the will of the fish.

There are some tails, such as those of the sharks and of the sea-snakes, which are long and narrow and stiff from edge to edge; and these are 'feathered' like an oar. But the tail of an ordinary fish is not only wider, but flexible in every direction, and capable of being spread out or narrowed by the action of little muscles attached to the bony rays which support it. Now such a tail may be feathered, and probably is, when the fish is moving slowly; but for more rapid movements it is probable that the whole tail is spread out and hollowed backward for the backward stroke; but that upon reaching the middle line it is narrowed and made convex for the forward stroke, so as to offer the least resistance to the water.

Those fishes which have scales overlapping each other are aided in still a fifth way; for in the forward stroke the scales upon that side of the tail would be flattened closely together so as to present a plain surface; but in the backward stroke the edges of the scales would be raised a little from the bending of the tail, as would a roughened surface to the water.—From "Beast, Bird, and Fish," by BUFF G. WILDER, in Harper's Magazine for December.

TO MAKE APPLE VINEGAR.

Let the barrel be full of good cider. As it ferments and runs over, keep it full until it has done working, (If I have the cider, I fill with that; if not, water enough to work it off will not hurt.) Stop loosely, or, better, lay a thin cloth over the bung hole. Let it stand five or six weeks, then draw off to the dregs and put it back in the barrel, still keeping it loosely stopped. In a month or two more it will be good vinegar; then it must be closely stopped. If it is desired to keep it for any length of time, a third drawing off will be better. If kept tight then it will keep as long as desirable. The process is rather slow but very sure. I have it now made by the above process last year, and it is good as I would wish.—Cor. Southern Farmer.

An eastern youth traveling in the civilized regions between here and California, provided himself with a small pistol so as not to be out of the fashion. While he was apparently examining it, but really 'showing off,' a brawny miner, whose belt was weighted with two heavy six shooters, asked him what he had there. 'Why, replied the young man from the east, "that is a pistol." "Wall,' said the rough, 'if you shot me with that and I should ever find it out, I'd lick you like fun."

If a man has any religion worth having he will do his duty and not make a fuss about it. It is the empty kettle that rattles.

We take pleasure in recommending the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as a safe and reliable preparation for restoring gray hair to its natural color, and promoting its growth.

To thousands of dyspeptics Whittlesey's Dyspepsia cure has proved an invaluable medicine. John Hagaman, a well known citizen of Bronson township, Huron county, O., says: "I take pleasure in certifying to you that I have used Dr. Whittlesey's Dyspepsia cure in my family with the most beneficial results, especially in the case of my daughter, who was badly afflicted with Dyspepsia. Any considerable exercise or exertion was sure to bring on a terrible sickness. Before having used one bottle she was nearly recovered, and I think that the one bottle will entirely cure her."

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease that he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at most drug stores everywhere.

ROBACK'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Some time ago, Dr. Roback, of Cincinnati, through his agent in this place, J. A. Maxwell, placed in our hands a bottle of his Stomach Bitters, designed for dyspepsia, to give tone to the stomach, as a preventive against the billious complaints incident to the western country; and, upon using it, we regard it as second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the bitters are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietor a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgments of its superior excellence and beneficent result have assured the proprietor that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system. We advise those who use bitters, to use none but Roback's which can be obtained at J. A. Maxwell's drug store, in Upper Sandusky.

Constitutional Amendment--YES.

ROLLING MILL.—A number of our capitalists are earnestly discussing a project often referred to in these columns, and which has frequently been the theme of remark among our people, and that is, adopting efficient measures to start a rolling mill here. Circumstances tending toward such a consummation seem, at present, to be favorable, and now is the propitious time to make a telling effort. United and decisive action are all that is required, as the means existing here are ample to complete such a project when the needed steps are taken in that direction. Nature has richly provided all the requisite material in abundance, and it needs but the skilled hands of the laborer and artizan to transmute this mineral wealth into such shape as to add uncounted stores of riches to this community. The manufactories in operation now here will compare favorably to any of their class elsewhere, and the more there are of that description the better for us—and especially will it increase this power by the addition of a rolling mill, nail factory, and other iron works. We hope that our capitalists who have this matter in hand will not cease their efforts until success crowns their labors.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—For weeks we have been interested in noticing efforts which are at present making to effect a railroad connection between the south-east and north-west, and have published articles giving information as to what is contemplated. We observe that our neighbors both east and west of us are interesting themselves in the matter, hoping that the improvement may pass through their places or so near as to be profitable to them. Our Canton friends are awake to its importance and the Wooster people, too, are hoping for it. If they both succeed, Massillon won't be far off the track.

From all that we can see the idea is no illusion, as we are assured that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. have undertaken the work, and are bound to put it through. All they ask, so the papers say, of the vicinities through which the road may pass is for the people to defray the expense of surveys, and the company propose doing the rest. They want a shorter route than now exists by railroad between the south-east and north-west, and they will have it. Surveyors are now at work and have progressed through Columbiana county, passing through New Lisbon, and are far advanced into this county. The proposed road will shorten the distance between Pittsburgh and Toledo about 80 miles. At a recent meeting the following board of directors were elected: J. G. Chamberlain, Leetonia; Harvey Howard and Hon. M. Welker, Wooster; John H. Page, Pittsburgh; Ashbury Waddell, Columbiana; John A. Collier, Steubenville. These directors organized by electing the following officers: President, Hon. M. Welker, Wooster; Secretary, Samuel W. Orr, New Lisbon; Treasurer, J. G. Chamberlain, Leetonia. That looks like business, and certainly means it. Have our people no interest in this movement? If so, is it not time to be doing something? As we understand it the road is already finished some distance west of Pittsburgh, so it will not be a great undertaking to complete the remainder, say to Toledo, where other lines will connect leading to Detroit, Chicago, and other cities.

THE FREE SCHOOL SYSTEM.—The earnest discussions now in progress in a few of our chief cities in regard to the use of the Bible in common schools, is a question which some of our eminent men regard as pregnant with danger in its results to the perpetuity of that boast of our country, its free schools. Wherever introduced it will be met with earnest pleadings on both sides of the question—those who favor and those who oppose the required introduction of the Bible in schools—for this is the shape the controversy in reality assumes. In their earnestness for daily reading the Bible in these schools many assert that all who oppose its use in this way are a set of heathens, while a portion of the other side accuse their opponents with wishing to render our schools the means of diffusing sectarian sentiments. The extremes of these views place men very widely apart, and in the heat of discussion it is possible there are those on each side of the question who, rather than concede their favorite theory would be willing even to sacrifice our common school system than to give up their position. While it may be well to discuss this question in a moderate and patient manner, if such a thing can be done, certain it is that it would be far better to let it slumber in quiet than to endanger our beneficent system of instruction; for as soon as it is thus introduced before the public it is liable to assume, whether intended so or not, a sectarian form. Of course the Bible party dont concede that it is a sectaran book, but those taking the other side of the controversy assume that it is such, in a qualificial sense. To us it seems best, therefore, for school boards and those having authority in educational affairs, not to meddle with superintendents and teachers on this point. If any of them wish to use this book daily, in opening their school exercises, let them do so, while others who choose to omit its use in this way, should have equal privilege to follow their judgment, without being held to account for sins either of commission or omission.

GOOD LOOKING FIGURES.

We condole with the opposition. In spite of democratic desires and predictions, this perverse generation of working Americans insist that they are not ruined, and that the country shall not go to perditon. Worse than all, the stubborn administration of President Grant refuses to be a failure—insists, indeed, upon being a magnificent success.

Nine months ago the democratic journals were jubilant with prophesies of the coming bankruptcy of the nation. Ruin of the national credit they thought would be equivalent to democratic success; and they were glad, and made merry in their hearts. But the stubborn President insisted on retrenchment and economy, cut off needless expenses, and actually began to pay off the debt—slowly, to be sure, but in appreciable quantity. Th Democracy were disgusted; their thunder was taken away; they tried one misrepresentation after another, about railroad bonds, about money in the Treasury, about canceled bonds and currency. Still the reduction of the debt went on. Gold went down, and credit went up. The elections came—they did not carry Ohio, did not carry Pennsylvania, did not carry Minnesota, and did not honestly carry New York.

As the Opposition is profound on figures, we offer a few specimens for their consideration. The actual reduction of the public debt since Gen. Grant was placed at the helm, is $71,903,525. The length of his Administration is nine months; the reduction per month is $7 989,281; and for each week, $184,372; and for each day, $26,248; and for each hour, $1,093 50; and for each minute, $18 23; and for each second over $3. That is just the rate at which the Republican Administration is sending the nation to ruin. Within each interval of the issues of the sore-headed Democratic dailies, with their chronic growl about radical waste, the Treasury pays off $26,243 of our debt, and in that proportion reduces the interest thereon. While an atrabilious editor is dining at the Manhattan Club, four or five thousand dollars of public debt are canceled; and while he is concocting a leader, showing the hopeless failure of Grant, an equal sum is redeemed.

The debt, less the amount of money in the treasury, is in round numbers $2,453,660,000. At the rate of reduction since Grant's inauguration, including the abatement of interest, it would be fully paid in less than thirty years. We have, since Grant came in, paid nearly $8,000,000 per month; and there is every prospect that the good work will go on.—N. Y. Tribune.

FURGRABER MINSTRELS BENEFIT.

MR. EDITOR:—Onste more I'm kalled upon 2 put my kumble thoughts in print. For in the language of Somebody, I don't know who, 2 wit—Its a poor wind that blows nobody any good. Now if it wasent for these furgrabers & sosity men my occupation would be gone, and I would not had anything 2 develip this brane of mine. But to proseed. One nite last weke a few of us young men that are just kommenced to develip our leading trates started out for a spree and kommenced at the brick block and got 3 rounds there wich Burned us enough 2 start us goin & from there we went 2 the stone block and took one round around the stone block, & from there we went up 2 Old Blue Barrells and by that time we was so drunk that we dident know what we did drink. But after we got thru we went round to Shifley's jewelry store 2 play the tamborene, but got put out and in gettin put out, just as I got to door one of the glass in the door run aganst my fist and went thro it and for that I was brote up 2

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1870, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the western hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the planter, and professional man, and the calculations have been made for such meridans and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive national calendar.

The nature, uses and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable receipts for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this one will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the central manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Pa., or to the nearest dealer in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The bitters are sold in every town, city and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

BOTTLED PARALYSIS.

This is the proper title of the horrible metallic hair dyes. Worse than the fate of Absalom may be the fate of those who use them. ONE WHOLESOME PREPARATION for changing the hair to any desirable shade from brown to jet black may be procured everywhere, viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

After a careful analysis Prof. Chilton, the distinguished Chemist, has authorized the proprietor to declare on his behalf, that it contains nothing deleterious to health. No other hair dye in the world has the like guarantee.

Christadoro's Hair Preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing. Try it.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of horses die yearly from colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of cuts, wind galls, swellings, sore throat, sprains, bruises, old sores, &c. This liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 23 years by the first horsemen of the country. Given to an over drived horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years. Col. Philo P. Bush of the Jerome race course, has given a certificate which can be seen at the depot, stating that after years of trial, it is the best in the world. His address is Fordham, N. Y. No one once using it will ever be without it. It is put up in pint bottles. Sold by the druggists and saddlers throughout the United States. Depot 10 Park Place, New York.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM.

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAY:

Amos Woolly, M. D. of Kosciusko county, Indiana, says: For three years past I have used Allen's Lung Balsam extensevely in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung diseases in use.

Isaac R. Dorin, M. D. of Logan Co., Ohio, says: Allen's Lung Balsam not only sells rapidly, but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it, and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice, and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known.

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says: I have no hesitation in saying that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying health.

Dr. Fletcher, of Missouri, says: I recommend your Balsam in preference to any other medicine for coughs, and gives satisfaction.

Allen's Lung Balsam is the remedy to cure all Lung and Throat difficulties; it should be thoroughly tested before using any other balsam. It will cure when all others fail Directions accompany each bottle. J. N. HARRIS & Co., sole proprietor, Cincinnati, Ohio.

and imparting it to the body, whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the parts where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease. The Porous Plasters are flexible, and found of a great help to those who have weak backs, or pain in the side. Especially are they valuable to those wyo have neglected colds. They are often preventives of consumption; nay, they are believed to have often loosened the grasp of this terrible affliction, and been mainly instrumental in effecting a cure. In variable climates they should be worn on the breast or between the shoulders, or over the kidneys, by those who are subject to take colds easily.

We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.

The following, from one of the most worthy citizens of Athens County, Ohio.

We take pleasure in publishing such certificates, as we know it to be genuine.

EDITOR.

ATHENS, ATHENS Co., O., August 10, 1859.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.

JOSEPH HERROLD.

CARD.—Miss ELLA POTTER, daughter of the late Judge Potter, and recently a graduate of music, Vale Seminary, wishes to get up a music class in Massillon and its vicinity. Terms, twelve dollars a quarter. Persons desiring to join her class will please leave their names at the News Depot or with Mrs. P. P. Church. 334-3t

BAYARD TAYLOR, the distiuguished poet, author and traveler, is coming to Massillon, and will lecture in Madison Hall, Tuesday evening, December 14th. He will deliver for the first time his new and highly interesting lecture, entitled: Life in Europe and America. The following are brief specimens of what the papers have to say of Mr. Taylor where he has been, and they might be indefinitely extended:

"It has now been four years since Bayard Taylor lectured in the west, and he has sent word that he is to retire from the lecture field, at the close of the present season; so this will be his last lecturing tour, and all ought to improve the only chance they will have of hearing him."

"A rich treat is in store for our lecture goers. A gentleman here who has heard Bayard Taylor's new lecture pronounces it one of his best production. In description he has no equal, and as nothing escapes his observation during his travels, his conclusions are always correct and his comparisons just. Any extended notice of the distinguished lecturer is unnecessary, as our readers are already familiar with him, having journeyed together from the Eldorado to the lands of the Saracen. Let none of our citizens who would enjoy a rare literary treat fail to attend."

"Bayard Taylor being equally distinguished in the fields of authorship, as a fascinating novelest and one of the most gifted American poets, his extensive travels in all quarters of the globe, combine with his keen, observant and discriminating faculties, and his rare descriptive powers, have conspired to make him perhaps the most deeply interesting and instructive lecturer now before the American public."

A terrible accident is reported to have happened on the 2d inst. at Canton, at the railroad crossing of the street near the old depot. A Mr. Snyder living in the country was approaching the railroad with a three horse team and wagon just as an express train was coming along, and the horses becoming unmanageable attempted to cross the track, when one of them was cut in two and the others much mutilated, while Mr. Snyder was very severely injured, whether past recovery or not we have not heard. Dr. Metz of this place was sent for, and has done the best he can for the unfortunate man. These are the reports as we got them.

MR. HESS., plumber, who has charge of the water plugs throughout the city, we are informed, has everything in good condition for the approaching winter, so that if they should be needed there will be no trouble in procuring their services in case of fire. Mr. H. has had charge of them for a considerable time, and performs his part toward keeping things all right. The safety of the town requires the services of so faithful a man in this department.

T. S. Arthur, one of the good men of Philadelphia, who has for many years been publishing Arthur's Magazine, sent us a beautiful, large steel engraving the other day, which would be an ornament to any parlor. He is about to commence a new publication, The Children's Hour, which, no doubt, he will make a model work for the class for whom it is intended. Bills are placed up about town giving the particulars of this proposed magazine.

A severe fire took place in Salem one night last week, by which a considerable quantity of property was destroyed in the shape of buildings and other material. Our friend, Isaac Trescott, is one of the heaviest losers, as his stock of books, periodicals and other goods were nearly all destroyed by the calamity, and he had no insurance.

Some of our rottenest whisky peddlers in town had an invitation before the mayor the other day, and received admonitions which they may remember a short time. Let those who suffer from these recruiting dens of the devil put through these violaters of laws every time they get opportunity. Oblivious to all moral restraints there is nothing but legal suasion will meet their cases, and this suasion should be liberally and faithfully administered.

BLIND TOM had a pretty full house last Wednesday evening, and those present were much interested in his performances. He is emphatically a character, and there is but one of that particular sort living, and Blind Tom is that one. His forte is the fortepiano—on that instrument the magic touch of his fingers elicit the finest music. The miscellaneous audience before him, to a great extent, cannot appreciate the fine harmony and melody which a master hand can produce on this instrument, but Tom's fingers could make all understand its beauties in some degree. It is all attributed to his wonderful powers of imitation, for he can't read music any more than he can speak the language of Demosthenes. His ears are the only avenues through which he learns. But when his feats in music are heard, that is nearly the end of his powers of marvel. In almost every other respect he is far below mediocrity. So largely is his imitation developed that when the audience clap their hands in approbation he goes it with all his power, which at first excited considerable amusement.

Bro. Vernon, editor of the Salem Journal, and Bro. Hudson, printer, of the same place, made our city a brief visit last week. They both appear to be prospering, if outward indications are any sign.

For a day or two last week after the heavy, continuous rains which previously fell, the roaring Tuscarawas overran its banks in this vicinity, and made quite a formidable show of water surface.

LECTURE!

To be delivered by the distinguished Author, Poet and Traveler,

BAYARD TAYLOR,

AT MADISON HALL,

Thursday Evening, Dec. 14.

He will deliver for the first time, his new and highly interesting Lecture, entitled:

LIFE IN

Europe and America

☞It has now been four years since Bayard Taylor lectured in the west, and he has sent word that he is to retire from the lecture field at the close of the present season, so this will be his last lecturing tour, and all ought to improve the only chance they will have of hearing him on the present occasion. He is having crowded houses in every city.

Admission, 50c. Reserved seats, 75c.

Tickets are now for sale at the usual places. Call and get your tickets in time.

Doors open at half past seven. To commence at eight o'clock.

Even during these latter days of melting snows and heavy rains, which bring in their trains a bounteous supply of mud, Mr. Hewes, our street commissioner, under instructions of the city council, has been busily at work bridging gutters and cindering crossings and sidewalks, all of which tend to render passing along the streets afoot not so bad—provided, always, that some wagon or other vehicle is not left standing on these crossings.

The next question for consideration by the Massillon Debating Club is, Resolved, That the reading of the Bible should not be excluded from public schools. As this subject is now being earnestly discussed in some communities it may be considered a proper theme for consideration before a debating association. More members were added on the last evening, and there is still room for others to come in. It is a pleasant and profitable way of spending two or three hours each week; and young men will find it so, if they avail themselves of its advantages.

After an absence of some 20 years Messrs. Wm. Laughlin and E. Bivins, now citizens of Toledo, made Massillon, once their home, a visit, calling on friends and acquaintances, and reviving old and pleasant associations. They are heartily welcomed here by our citizens, who do what they can to render their return here one which will be hereafter remembered with agreeable impressions.

New York Independent.—This very large religious paper came to us the other day with its seventy-two long columns and a supplement with thirty-six more columns, in all one hundred and eight columns, containing matter enough to make a two dollar book, all for five cents. Mr. Tilton, the principal editor, is one of the ablest of his class in the country, then its correspondents are among the best writers to be found. In its teachings the Independent exercises a broad charity, which tolerates and encourages all that is good without requiring any special dogmas or beliefs. See terms elsewhere.

MASONIC.—At the election held at the Masonic Hall by Clinton Lodge, No. 47, F. & A. M. the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: S. C. Bowman, W. Master; Chales H. Tinkler, Senior Warden; S. Loew, Junior Warden; John Dangler, Treasurer; Thornton Briggs, Secretary; G. Strovel, Senior Deacon; Charles Garver, Junior Deacon; Charles Muncaster, Tyler.

BAYARD TAYLOR.—By notices elsewhere it will be seen that this distinguished lecturer, writer and traveler, is to be here next Tuesday evening. It is not possible for us to add anything in his favor that the intelligent public do not already know, but we would urge all who are partial to to listening to men of the best literary talents to go and hear Mr. T., as he cannot fail to interest and instruct the most select audience that can be gathered anywhere: beside, he designs that this shall be the last tour he expects to make in the profession of a lecturer. It will compensate any one to see and hear a man who has excited the admiration of his countrymen wherever he has appeared on the rostrum, and his agreeable and elevated style of speaking have also won for him countless hosts of friends in foreign countries. Be at Madison Hall on Tuesday evening.

Although the day was a rough one to be out, last Saturday found our streets pretty well crowded with people, horses and vehicles, and it was a pretty good day for business.

Last week the firm of Beatty, Atwater & Co. slaughtered and shipped some 300 hogs, which was a very good six day's work for an establishment just coming into existence. We hope the enterprisng proprietors will make a good thing out of their business, and if energy and merit deserve success they will realize it.

Tickets of invitation were sent to some of the fast boys about town the other day to meet the mayor at his office, because they had been rather freely punching windows. He (the mayor) though not as severe on them as he might have been, admonished them to behave better hereafter.

For various reasons the city council had no meeting last Wednesday evening.

Mr. George Ralston, of Brookfield, had an arm and ribs broken last Friday by falling into a horse power when in motion, but his injuries are not reported dangerous.

A break in the canal at or near Akron has somewhat interfered with navigation.

More than a hundred fat hogs were driven to the pork establishment of Beatty, Atwater & Co. on yesterday.

The prospect and hopes of many of our citizens now are that Russell's establishment will raise the steam and go into operation next week.

The Methodist Mite Society will meet at the residence of Mr. S. Buckius on Monday evening next. Refreshments will be provided in the shape of cake and ice-cream. everybody is invited to attend.

Congress met Monday—The president's message is commendably short.

Mr. J. Downer takes charge of the Franklin House formerly occupied by Hr. Kline.

MR. H. WILLIAMS of the fine large store in the Opera building, who keeps on hand a vast variety of indispensable goods for household uses, prominent among which are glass and queensware, has just been receiving accessions to his stock, and is prepared to supply any demand made upon him in his line.

Among the numerous preparations by our business men in the supply of holiday goods we notice that Mr. Richeimer's window is bounteously supplied with a great variety of nice articles, which will be a success in tempting many people to purchase—just to please the children, and bigger folks.

GREAT OATS.—For supply of seed of the celebrated Ramsdell's Norway Oats call at Mr. Beatty's grocery, where John G. Wertzbaugher has this prolific grain for sale.

A backwoods preacher once said, in plea for his want of scientific knowledge, "that he was no grammugium nor arithmatikir, but thank God, he could preach the gospill." Our lively neighbor, I.B. Dangler, although he is no writest or speechmaker, can sell goods equal to the best talents in that line, and as his thirty days are not yet out, just call on him and see if it is not so

We are pleased to notice that Messrs. McBride and Shaeffer, who occupy the neat little new building on Erie street, just north of McLain, Dangler & Co's store, are meeting with deserved success in their agency in selling Howe's sewing machines.

Mr. Falke, in addition to his splendid line of millinery goods keeps quite a fine assortment of furs, which purchasers can see by calling at his well known store on Main street. Ladies interested in seeing such a large and fine variety as he always has on hand can be supplied with anything in the way of millinery.

Diseased lungs are greatly on the increase in this country. The sudden changing of weather has done much to give rise to consumption. But there are thousands of cases that bring it on by their own imprudence, such as wearing damp clothing, and going from the warm room into the cold air and checking the perspiration, which causes irritation of the lungs, and then matter or phlegm will collect, which nature will try to relieve by coughing it up to prevent postules from forming. If nature does not raise the matter with ease, and stop this inflamation, tubercles soon will forin, and consumption will follow. Allen's Lung Balsam will cure and prevent thousands of cases of consumption, if taken in time.

This infallible remedy does not, like the poisonous irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions with which the people have long been humbugged, simply paliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs, as there is danger of doing in the use of such nostrums, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic catarrh, as thousands can testify. Cold in the head is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal headache is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, watering or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of catarrh, as they all frequently are. We offer $500 for a case of catarrh that we cannot cure.

For sale by most Druggists everywhere. Price 50 cents.

Ask your druggists for the remedy, but if he has not got it on sale, don't be put off by accepting any misserable worse than worthless substitute, but enclose 60 cents to me, and the remedy will be sent to you postpaid. Four packages $2, or one doz. for $5. Address the proprietor, R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. 333-3m

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affliction and that dread disease, consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers his means of cure. To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, &c. The object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription wil please address Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co. N Y.—307 1y

FOR FIFTY CENTS

There is not a remedial agent in this world that will cure
FEVER AND AGUE.
And all other Malarious, Bilious, Scarlet, Typhoid, Yellow, and other Fevers (aided by RADWAY'S PILLS), so quick as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

has proved infallible, and will cure these terrible fevers quicker, and without entailing the frightful penalties of QUININE, LARSPEEN, DISORDERED ENGORGED LIVER, LARSPEEN, DISORDERED KIDNEYS, and SALLOW-COLORED SKIN, that are sure to follow the use of the "Chinogogues," "Ague Cures," and other agents of the heroic Quinine, Mercurial, Arsenic, and other treatments where the medicines used accumulate, and become deposited in the system.

THE TRUE
THEORY OF PURGATION
APPLIED TO THE
Liver, Kidneys, Skin
STOMACH & BOWELS.

DR. RADWAY'S
PERFECT
PURGATIVE PILLS,
Perfectly Tasteless,
ELEGANTLY COATED.

MATERIA MEDICA contains, in its repertoire, many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, opens the bowels, and through what is called a "peristaltic" movement, purge from the alimentary canal the feces and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled disease, are utterly useless.

DR. RADWAY has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purposes of a PURGATIVE, APERIANT, COUNTER-IRRITANT, ALTERATIVE PILL, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing THOROUGH EXPULSION OF ALL DECAYED AND DECOMPOSING Elements of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers, In cases where the mucous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

Gastric, Bilary, Pancreatic Complaints,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS
Supply the only Vegetable substitute for
CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In RADWAY'S PILLS you have one in diine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this—You are seized with a Bilious attack: Doctor prescribes Blue Pills or Calomel; next, some Drastic Aloetic Pill or Powders to work off the effects of the Blue Pill, the prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, or a gentle aperient, whereas ONE DOSE OF RADWAY'S PILLS will do all the work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mercurializing or salivating the system.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

In RADWAY'S PILLS, the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the feces and excrements from the bowels, but those humors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secreting functions; for if these excrementious secretions belong in the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become product of decay and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of RADWAY'S PILLS extend to the secretions of the SKIN, KIDNEYS, LIVER, &c.; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to Take Radway's Pills.
THEIR DAILY USE.

In doses of one or two pills, by all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalize its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of these pills every day will not suffer from Headaches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA.

One of RADWAY'S PILLS, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, COSTIVENESS, &c.

Bear in Mind,

RADWAY'S PILLS are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperient and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

They promote the secretion of bile and withdraw it from the circulation.

They assist, through their nutritious properties, the chyle and chyle, and gastric juices in the process of digestion.

They are Elegantly Coated with Gum, Perfectly Tasteless, and free from smell.

PRICE, Twenty-five Cents per Box, or Five Boxes for One Dollar. Always ask for RADWAY'S PILLS, and see that the letters "D. R." are on one side of label, and the words Radway's Regulators on the other. Sold by all Druggists and General Store Keepers, and at Dr. RADWAY'S Medical Office, 87 Maiden Lane, New York.

C. F. GALTON'S
DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who avail themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly ten years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In case of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity. I was frequently compelled to leave the table without being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in no better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with fearsome and depression of spirits. I tried all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, and some of these afforded me temporary relief, but in a short time I relapsed into my former condition.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it, I soon could partake of my meals without any disagreeable feeling either while at the table or afterwards, and gained flesh rapidly. It is now nearly ten years since, and I have continued free from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I can therefore recommend it to any one suffering in like manner.

"Respectfully yours, ANDREW J. NICHOLSON,
"PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was much troubled with Dyspepsia. She had a severe pain in her side, her appetite was variable, and she became quite sallow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion became good again, all of which I attribute to the use of C F Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances. All that I can do to make its wonderful properties known, you can rest assured will be done. JAMES A. SMITH.
"PITTSBURGH, PA"

If you are suffering do not hesitate to buy a bottle of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and avail yourself of its curative properties.

Mrs S. A. ALLEN

MRS. ALLEN'S
Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

RESOLUTIONS.

If you've any task to do,
Let me whisper, friend, to you,
Do it.

If you've anything to say,
True and needed, yea or nay,
Say it

If you've anything to love,
As a blessing from above,
Love it.

If you've anything to give,
That another's joy may live
Give it.

If some hollow creed you doubt,
Though the whole world hoot and shout,
Doubt it.

If you know what torch to light
Guiding others through the night,
Light it.

If you've any debt to pay,
Rest you neither night or day—
Pay it.

If you've any joy to hold,
Near your heart lest it grow cold,
Hold it

If you've any grief to meet,
At the loving Father's feet,
Meet it.

If you've given light to see
What a child of God should be,
See it.

Whether life be bright or drear,
There's a message sweet and clear,
Whispered down to every ear—
Hear it!

Don't buy a piano for your daughter while your sons need a plow.

Decent, substantial clothing for your children make them think better of themselves and keeps the doctor away.

Don't become security for him who waits for the sheriff.

Buy a farm wagon before a fine carriage.

If you have a yoke of oxen don't be ashamed of them and give your note for a span of horses.

Don't buy patents to sell again.

Teach your boys to look upward and forward and never look down or backward.

Don't leave to memory what should be written; it makes law suits.

Cultivate the habit of giving, but never give up.

When the labors of the day are past take good books and newspapers and the youngsters to the sitting room.

There are four kinds of criminal capitalists. 1st, The owners of houses or dens affording shelter to depredators and places for their congregation and enjoyment—concert-saloons, dance houses and houses of prostitution. 2d. The receivers or buyers of stolen property. 3d, The pawnbrokers, who lend money upon such property. 4th, The makers of burglarious and other instruments used in criminal operations. It is the practical impunity of these capitalists which supports the breed of thieves and burglars. * * * * Strike at the criminal capitalists in your warfare against crime, * * make the cities too hot to hold them * * * but so long, as through ignorance or fear, you fail to adopt this method of attack, you will be obliged to maintain an army of watchers to check evil inclinations as they ripen into crime."

Two colored men near Rolling Fork, Issaquena county, Miss., had a difficulty which resulted in their attendance before a colored magistrate in the neighborhood. After a hearing, the justice decided that both men were in fault, and that each should pay a fine of $25 and costs, making $45 each. But both were unable to pay. The embarassed 'Squire hit upon a plan to get even with them. He put both to work on his forty-acre cotton patch, and they picked 4,800 pounds each to square the bill.

WAGON TIRES.—An Englishman has invented a new plan of setting wagon tires. The usual plan is to expand the tire and shrink it on the wheel. His plan is to shrink the wheel and expand against the tire. This he does by increasing its dish by hydraulic pressure, removing the same when the tire is placed around the felloes. If the invention is as good in practice as in theory it will change and cheapen a business which was generally considered to have reached perfection.

We once saw a young man bravely turning up the glass. He was a free-hearted, glorious fellow; he was, as he said, sowing his wild oats. We afterwards saw the constable hauling a miserable drunkard from the gutter to jail. It occurred to us that the wild oats were being dragged in. A glorious crop! The bar-room and gutter are exhaustless in their fertility.

The question why printers do not succeed as well as brewers is thus answered: Because printers work for the head, and brewers for the stomach—and where twenty men have stomachs but one has brains.

An octogenarian says: "I was born at the wrong time. When I was young, young men were of no account. Now I am old, I find old men are of no account."

Everything useful or necessary is the cheapest: walking is the most wholesome exercise, water the best drink, and plain food the most nourishing diet—even in knowledge, the most useful is the easiest acquired.

Man who is born of woman should never abuse the female persuasion. Gratitude is a virtue, let him, therefore, kiss them for his mother.

A praying hypocrite is like an impudent debtor, who goes every day to talk familiarly with his creditor, without ever paying what he owes.

Wo unto him that maketh his neighbor drunk! He kindles the fires of perdition in his own heart, and without repentance they will consume him, and hang his carcase on the tenter hooks of hell to roast forever.

Legal Notice.

THE STATE OF OHIO, } The Court of
The County of Stark, } Common Pleas.
ADAM KURTZ, Plaintiff, } Civil action; in vs. } attachment.
JACOB KURTZ, Deft. }

THE said Jacob Kurtz, the defendant above named, whose residence is in the state of Illinois, will take notice that, on the first day of November, A.D., 1864, the said plaintiff filed his petition in said court, setting forth that on the first day of January, A.D. 1858, the said Jacob Kurtz made, executed, and delivered to the plaintiff his promissory note, calling for ninety dollars, with interest at seven per cent, which amount is due and unpaid.

The said defendant will also take notice that said petition sets forth that on the 29th day of March A. D. 1865 one Jacob Newstetter by the consideration and judgment of the Civil Circuit court of Marion county, Indiana obtained a judgment against said Jacob Kurtz as aforesaid for $428, and eight dollars and sixty cents costs, amounting in the aggregate to $436 60 as appears by a duly authenticated record from said Marion county Civil Circuit Court which filed with and made a part of said Plaintiff's petition that said sum is now due with interest, except a credit of twenty-two dollars and ten cents. The said petition also shows that, on the 30th day of October A. D. 1869 the said Jacob Newstetter sold and transferred his inferest in said judgment to the plaintiff, by which the plaintiff became the owner of the two claims above described amounting to the sum of six Hundred and Ninety-four dollars and seventy cents; upon which petition an order to attach the goods, chattels, rights, credits, moneys and effects of the said defendant, within said said county, was issued by the clerk of said court and returned not found as to said defendant & duly served as to the garnishees in said writ, named, to wit, Jacob Newstetter and John R. Kurtz, administrators of the estate of Rebecca Kirk, deceased. The defendant is also notified that unless he appears and plead, answer or demur to said petition, within the time limited by law and the rules of said court judgment will be taken against him for said sum of Six Hundred and Ninety four dollars and seventy cents with the accruing interest and costs.

Tho this company has demonstrated time and again the value of life insurance by distributing among the widows and orphans of 175 Members the sum of $500,000.
Yet its losses in proportion to the number insured and amount of insurance has been few and light, according to a compilation from the last published report of the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner, showing the ratio of claims by death to policies issued during the last 12 months in the leading life insurance companies, thus:

Name of Company.	Ratio.			Person Ins.
Mass Mutual	21 one	death in	every	476
N. England Mut.	20 one	do	do	500

ROOFING.
Three Ply Felt Roofing,
Unites the best water proof composition with the best water proof fabric, in the best manner, and at the lowest price to the consumer. There is, first, a foundation of tarred felt; 2d, a layer of water proof composition; 3d, another layer of felt. Send for circulars and samples.
As an Inducement,
We offer to the first purchaser in each place 1000 square feet of the three ply felt, with the necessary coating, for thirty dollars.
PATENT ROOF PAINT.
This paint is composed of gums, oils and resinous substances, combined with distilled tar and the best known dryers. It contains no mineral or pigment, and is prepared ready for use, about the consistency of ordinary mixed paints. It costs much less, retains its elasticity longer and is more durable. County rights for sale. For circulars and all particulars address Mica Roofing Company, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y. 320 6m

RUSSELL & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Agricultural Implements,
Massillon, Stark Co., Ohio,
Would respectfully inform those interested, that they continue to manufacture at their new stand
RUSSELL'S
Celebrated Premium Separator,
Which is acknowledged to be the best machine for thrashing, separating and cleaning grain now in use. They have, during the past year, perfected an entire new set of patterns for the double pinion horse power, on a larger scale than formerly, which, with a large number of other valuable improvements, make a stronger, more durable, and lighter running power than heretofore. They have also on hand, and will continue to keep Clover Hullers of the most approved construction, the celebrated Michigan Double Plow, together with a general assortment of farming implements, comprising Plows, Cultivators, &c. Their establishment being situated on the Ohio canal, and is in immediate vicinity of the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway, offers facilities by which we can ship our machinery to almost any section of the country. Orders by mail or telegraph promptly filled and letters of inquiry cheerfully answered.
